Volunteers and Medical Professionals wanted for East Longmeadow H1N1 Flu Clinics

H1N1 Flu vaccination clinics are in the planning stages. It is anticipated that clinics will be held during the day on one or more Saturdays during late November through January.

There is a critical need to establish a pool of volunteers and medical professionals to staff these clinics.

Volunteers are needed to assist in guiding people through the process of filling out paperwork, giving informational handouts and helping with the general operations of the clinics.

Volunteers are asked to send an email with their contact information to:
h1n1@eastlongmeadowma.gov

Medical Professionals are needed to administer vaccines. East Longmeadow, as a member community of the Hampden County Health Coalition, is coordinating a pool of medical professionals via the Pioneer Valley Planning Commission. Medical professionals will be eligible to work in East Longmeadow and other Coalition Communities and will be paid an hourly rate of $35.00.

Medical professionals interested in administering vaccine are asked to email Erica Johnson at the Pioneer Valley Planning Commission at: ejohnson@pvpc.org
