How your employer is helping you save for retirement

Let's face it. It's not easy saving for retirement. You have to fit it in your budget. And as a part-time, seasonal or a temporary worker, that's not easy.

Introducing the Nationwide® OBRA Plan

The Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act of 1990 (OBRA) allows governmental employers under certain circumstances to use a deferred compensation plan described in Section 457(b) of the Internal Revenue Code in lieu of paying and withholding Social Security/FICA taxes for employees that participate in such plans. In response to OBRA, Nationwide developed and offers FICA-replacement deferred compensation plans known as OBRA Plans.

How does the OBRA Plan work?

The OBRA Plan is designed for participation by all part-time, seasonal and temporary employees. You must contribute at least 7.5% of your total (gross) compensation to the OBRA Plan.

Your employer automatically deducts the required contribution from your gross compensation – just as they would for FICA taxes – and invests it in a fixed-return annuity issued by Nationwide Life Insurance Company. The annuity offers an annual guaranteed rate, with a current interest rate that is adjusted quarterly. Guarantees are subject to the claims-paying ability of the company.

When can I get my money?

If you are no longer eligible to participate in the OBRA Plan – for example, because you become a full-time employee – you may transfer the full value of your OBRA account into your employer's 457 Deferred Compensation Plan, provided your employer's plan permits such a transfer. OBRA Plans are also eligible for rollover to an IRA or, in most cases, to another employer's eligible retirement plan.

You may withdraw your funds – without penalty – when you retire or stop working.

- If you die before you receive your money, your account balance will be paid as a lump-sum payment to your estate or, if your plan allows, as your beneficiary or beneficiaries request.
- If your account balance is less than $5,000 when you are eligible to withdraw from your account, you will receive a lump-sum distribution.
- If your balance is $5,000 or more, you may choose a lump-sum distribution or a periodic payout.

You choose the solution that's best for you.
